True to your God you were,
To your country true,
And we will love God more
For knowing you.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE TO OUR FLAG

I pledge allegiance to my flag, and to the country for which it stands—one nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

S. MABEL HANCOCK

DEDICATION

TO the brave sons of our Alma Mater, who, in the greatest crisis of our national history, heard and heeded the call of country and humanity, and who are today offering their trained minds and their strong bodies in defense of American ideals, American firesides, American womanhood, the achievements of civilization, and the rights of men everywhere, the students of the session of 1917-1918, in gratitude, dedicate this volume of The Pedagog.

OUR ALIBI

IT is customary among publishers or authors when compiling a book for publication to prefix it with an article, the object of which is to put themselves in right with the innocent and suffering public, called most commonly the Foreword. However, believing that honesty is the best policy, we have decided to reveal to a credulous public the real reason for this FOREWORD; therefore, we have named it after its purpose and called it our ALIBI. Thus to you this article, which is legally a Foreword, is the sum of our excuses, apologies, and confessions; in short, it is correctly named the Alibi.

In publishing an annual this year we were confronted by a state of conditions never confronted by another staff since the days of the Civil War. In short, it is war times and everyone has felt the pinch of the war time conditions. We have experienced difficulty in securing advertisements, through which we chiefly finance the book. Thus, through necessity and loyalty to the spirit of our country, we have conserved in every possible way. We have tried to make this copy of The Pedagog a war time issue, and keep it in harmony with the spirit of the times, the keynote of which is conservation.

Thus, if in reading this book you are struck with its simplicity, its apparent cheapness, and its freedom from unnecessary adornment, you must not be hasty to censor us, but we ask that you think of our difficulties, pardon our weaknesses, and, finally, forgive us!

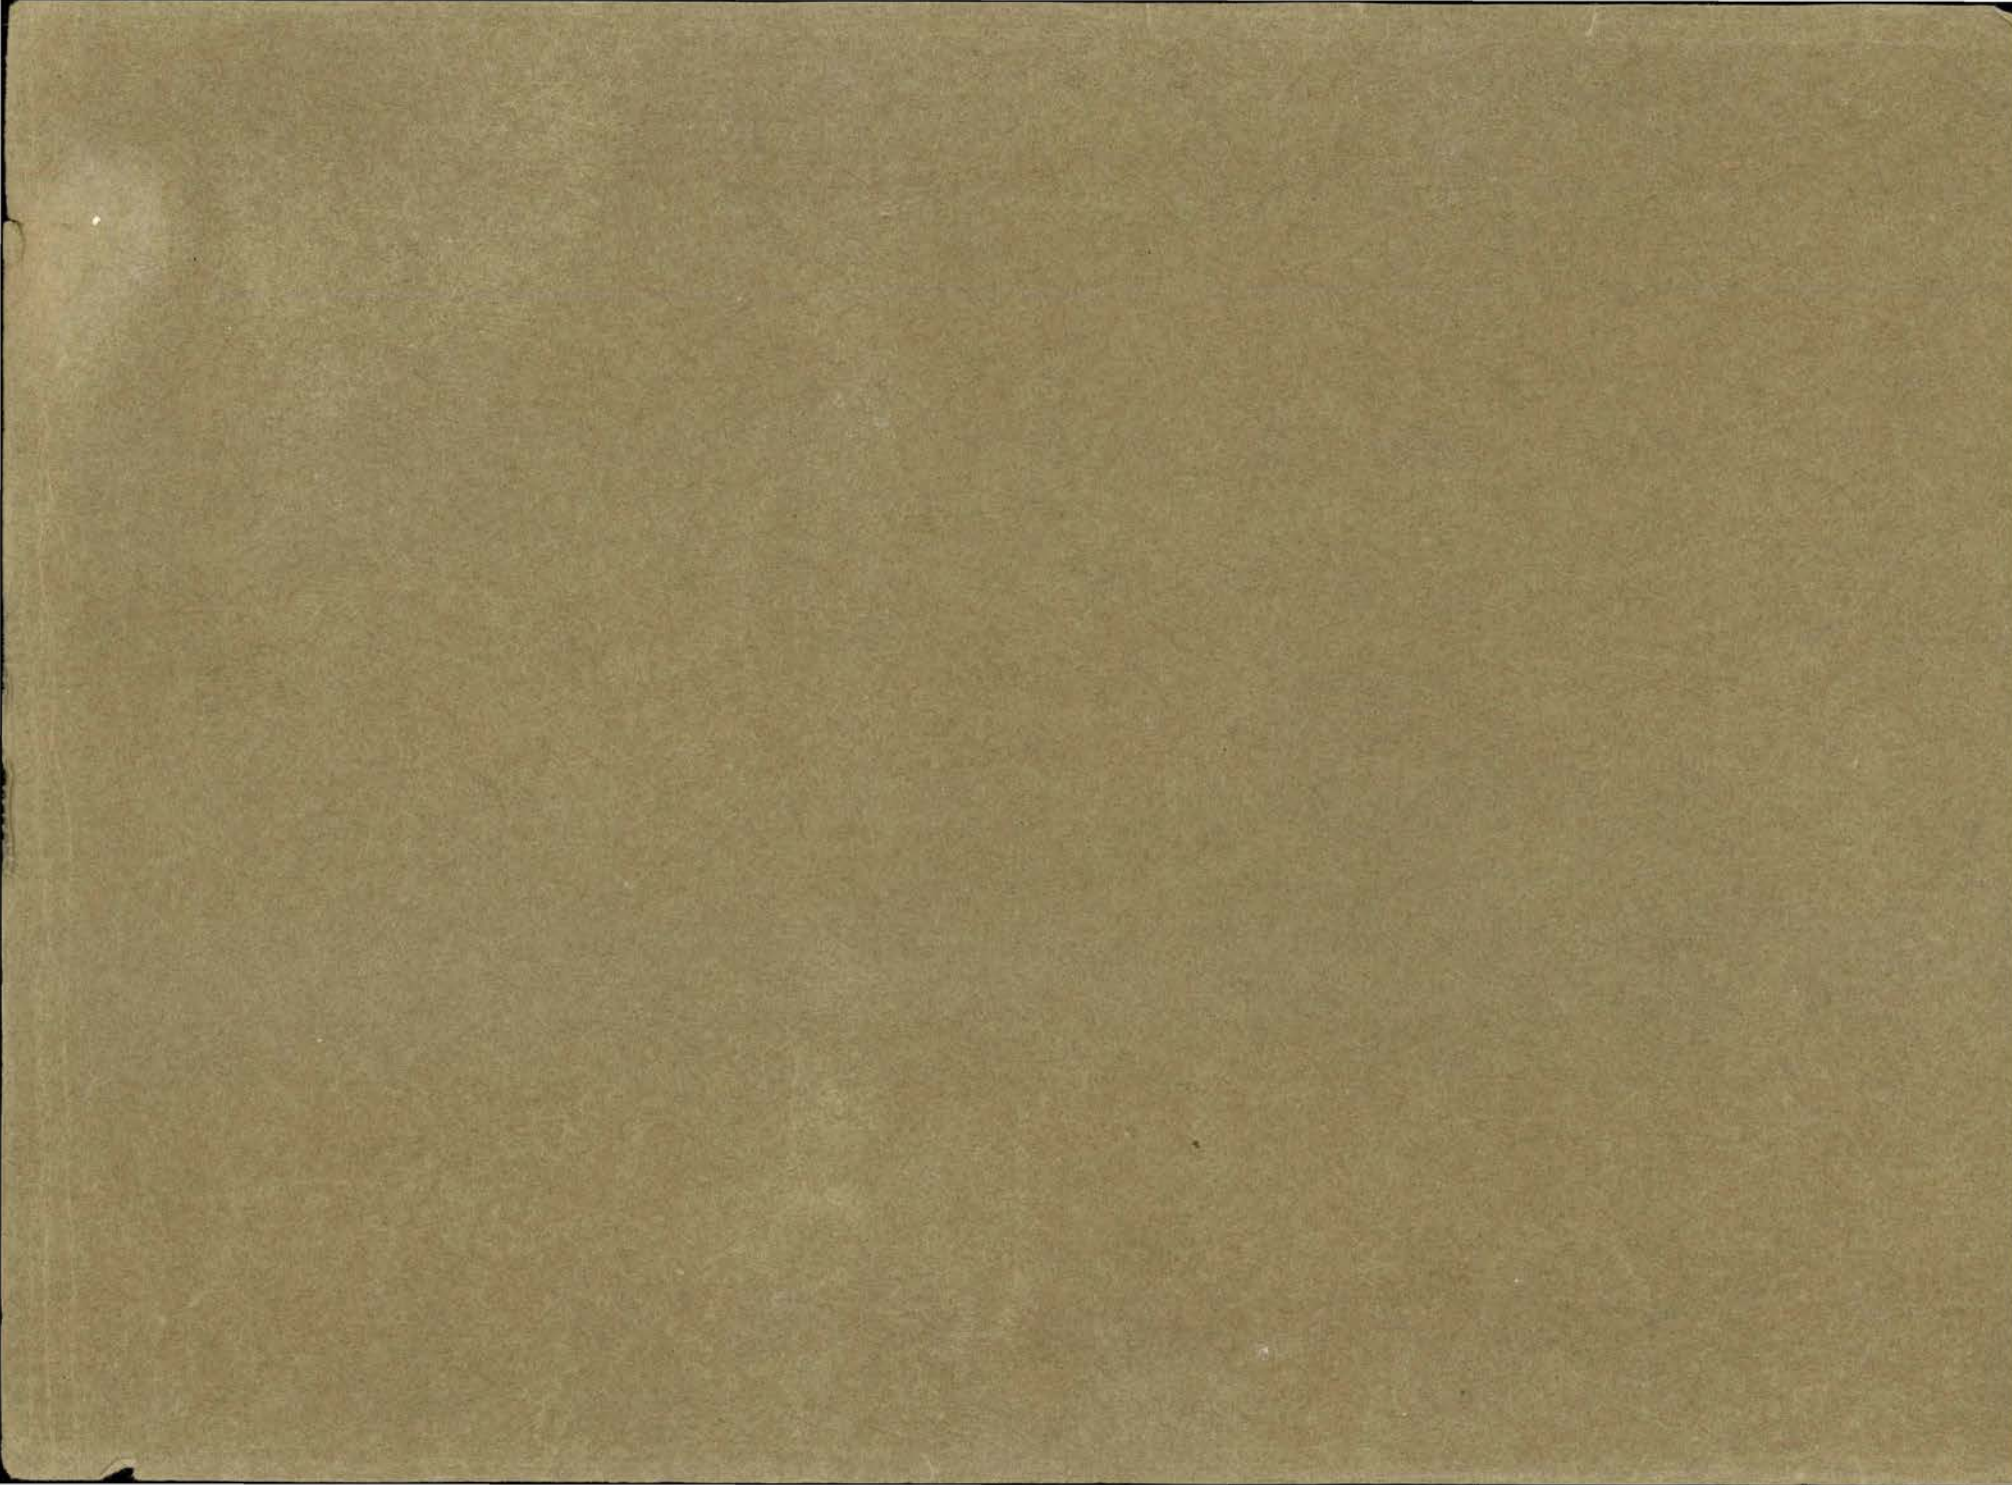

Our debts are many. The only way in which we may acknowledge them is through this paragraph. So we wish to heartily thank everyone for their loyalty to us and co-operation with us in publishing this book. We are especially indebted to our subscribers, our advertisers, our cartoonists, and our literary contributors. If, in any way, we have contributed to your material success, your welfare or your pleasure, we feel that we shall not have labored in vain.

In loving, but sorrowful, memory we dedicate this space to those Seniors whose loyalty to their class has suffered so untimely a death that it has prevented them from filling this space with their pictures. They have our deepest sympathy in their bereavement, but also our most sincere wishes that they may recover their lost loyalty before they enter another class.

Juniors, Juniors,

THE JUNIOR CLASS OF 1917-1918

MODESTY—for modesty is one of our distinguishing virtues—pleads with me to be silent, but the muse of history bids me speak. We are the Juniors, the largest class in school by actual count. When you think of it the fact is very important. We show by weight and measurement the bulk of brain tissue in the Normal. To show that this is of considerable importance it is enough to say that the teachers at times have turned over their classes to us, and to tell you the truth—for truth is another one of our virtues—members of this class have held every position on the campus except the presidency of the school. Not only in brains do we surpass, but in backbone, blue blood, and muscle.

We are not like the other classes. We are composed of various types of individuals who give and take with good-natured fairness. From this class comes musical talent and genius. Miss Theo McNeill as violinist, Miss Burnyce Stevens as pianist, and Miss Eloise Lewis as vocalist, each have rendered many beautiful solos to an appreciative student body. Orators, did you say?—well I guess. All four of Normal's debaters came from the Junior Class. Good ones they were, too. Demosthenes is glad that he had his chance before the 1917-1918 class came into existence, I know. Will G. Barber and Oscar Stroman won the debate with Denton; and Clarence Denman says that he and George White won over Canyon, too, but failed to get the decision. No-o-o-o, that's not all. From this class comes the best artists and financiers in the school. One-half of the main staff of The Pedagog was elected from the Junior Class, Vernon Garrett being the business manager and Paula Matthews being the art editor.

Our athletes have acquitted themselves well on the gridiron. During the football season, O. A. Zimmerman, better known as "Peabody," Willie Williams, Rector Williams and Clarence Glenn attracted considerable attention. The Juniors did not take first place in the class championship in football, but it was because we felt that we would be stepping on the toes of the less fortunate, and decided that the Sophs needed a little something for their history. In basketball season, "Peabody" Zimmerman was again a prominent character on the field. Melvin Miller, our class president, and Clarence Denman were also good players. Then came baseball season, when Mr. Zimmerman added the last big star to his crown, being given the honorable place as captain of the 1918 baseball team. Three other members of our class, A. C. Willburn, W. W. Ridgway (Heavy) and Hubert Cavaness, figured on this team.

I could continue for an indefinite length of time telling of the interesting deeds of the Junior Class, but the muse of history makes his exit and our ever-present modesty enters.

SOPHOMORES AS ATHLETES

"PRIDE goeth before the fall," is an old saying; and whether it is true or not, we are not sure, yet there is one thing we are sure of and that is, we are proud of our record in athletics for the years 1917-1918. The athletic season has practically passed for the year and the Sophomores feel that they have done their part in winning glory for their school. We were well represented last fall in the football team, there being four of our number who played on the first team. The support lent by these contributed its part towards a successful culmination of the season. When the football season was almost over, teams were organized for the purpose of determining the class championship for the year. The Sophomores and the "Fish" were the first to go together and as a result of the game we came out victorious with a score of 8 to 0. Next the Juniors, bragging about what they were going to do for us, tackled us and suffered a crushing defeat, the score being 25 to 0. We were then supposed to play the Seniors, but it seems that they had watched our previous playing and had seen that we could deliver the goods, so they backed down on us and we did not have an opportunity of beating them. According to the custom of the previous years the Faculty were also to play the winning class team, but, strange to say, they were so rushed with work that they could not play us. We are sure, however, that they will pardon our own private opinion on the subject. You see, they have built a championship so long that they hated to give it up and they knew that if they played us it was all off. So, you see, we have been cheated out of half our honor, yet we feel that everyone will understand and unite in attributing to us the title of football champions for the year 1917.

Next in order came basketball. Of the seven boys playing on this team, four were Sophomores, all of whom made good records. As for baseball, we are well represented by Summers, Soyars, Shands, and Phillips.

We are at present busy training our baseball team for the class games that are soon to take place. We will go into these games with the same old spirit which inspired us last year, and we feel sure that our hopes of victory and championship will not be in vain.

A FRESHMAN'S DREAM

If I with school were finished and done,
 Wouldn't that be a dream!
 If the Sophs wouldn't treat me as if I were a Hun,
 Wouldn't that be a dream!
 If I had any chance in the world for fame,
 And I didn't have to have Old "Fish" for a name,
 Say, wouldn't that be a dream!

But when I'm a Soph they will leave me alone,
 Oh, won't that be a dream!
 And then they can't say that my head is bone,
 Now, won't that be some dream!
 It's then I can pick on the poor little "Fish,"
 And cuff him around just as much as I wish,
 Gosh, won't that be a dream!

If when I'm a Junior the Dean would hide,
 Wouldn't that be a dream!
 And I could slip out with my girl for a ride,
 Wouldn't that be a dream!
 And if in my sailing I could slip by the Falls,
 And run by the Mills without any squalls,
 Heck, wouldn't that be a dream!

And then, Oh Ye Gods, a Senior I'll be,
 Oh, won't that be a dream!
 And the Training School kids will all laugh at me,
 But, will that be a dream!
 And won't I be glad when I get that old "Dipp"
 And out of San Marcos am ready to skip.

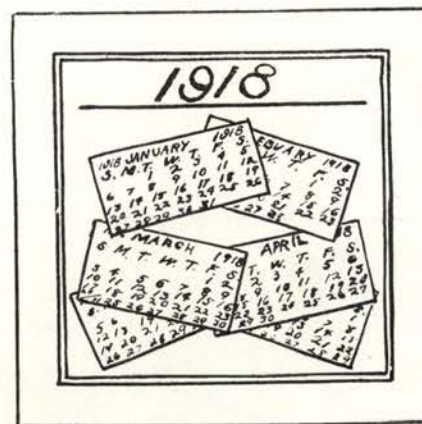

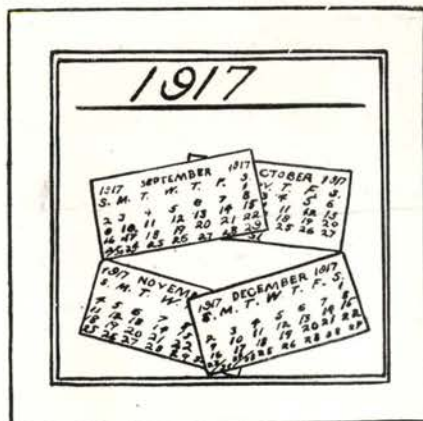

* * * * *

Pshaw! this is just a dream!

THE HISTORY OF THE NINTH GRADE

IF the roll call of four years ago was called only Dee Foster and Erma Smith could answer, for time has rolled by and with time changes are brought about. The original class was: Mann Christian, Haut Dobbs, Lester Dobbs, Dee Foster, Leslie Jackson, Robert Miller, Erma Smith, Sallie Smith, Indiana Watson, Letha Wilmore, Douglas Bales and Gladys Hauser. The second year many dropped out and left only Taylor Cliett, Dee Foster, Erma Smith, Lucile Stanley and Leonard Stroman. Ross Arnold, Eva Brown, Bessie Gary, Paul Lancaster, Claudie Milligan, Cecil Mitchell, Edith Mitchell, Clive Nesbitt and Rufus took the places of the missing ones.

In the succeeding year (nineteen sixteen) none left and Angelina Shripka was added to the class.

As is usually the case, some will drop out, so in the year nineteen seventeen, Rufus Doyle, Angelina Shripka, Cecil and Edith Mitchell and Eva Brown did not return, so Oreon Brannum, Bertie Lienweber, Tommie Newton, Raymond Caveness, Charles Homola, Adelle Major, Bill Roberts and Cicero Crutchfield were enrolled.

The faithful few of the class of '18 will be members of the mighty Freshman Class in S. W. T. N. in the fall of nineteen eighteen.

ARE WE PATRIOTIC?

Of stamps we have a goodly lot,
Two hundred dollars worth.
Of bonds we have a few to help
Democracy on earth.

We work for Red Cross afternoon.
And we work our gardens, too.
We are to hatch some chickens
In an incubator new.

We're doing all these things
To help
Our boys who've gone to fight
Our enemies and make them do
The things which are the right.

HOW THE NINTH GRADE TREATED "A"

A WAS AN ENGLISH
GRADE.

Adelle ate it.
Bertie boycotted it.
Bessie begged for it.
Clive chased it.

Claudie cried for it.
Charles craved it.
Dessie declined it.
Dee demanded it.
Erma envied it.
Leonard landed it.
Maurice missed it.

Oreon offended it.
Paul played for it.
Ross ran from it.
Raymond ran for it.
Tom tiptoed for it.
Taylor talked to it.

THE BEGINNING

(After having studied the Greek myth of the creation of the universe.)

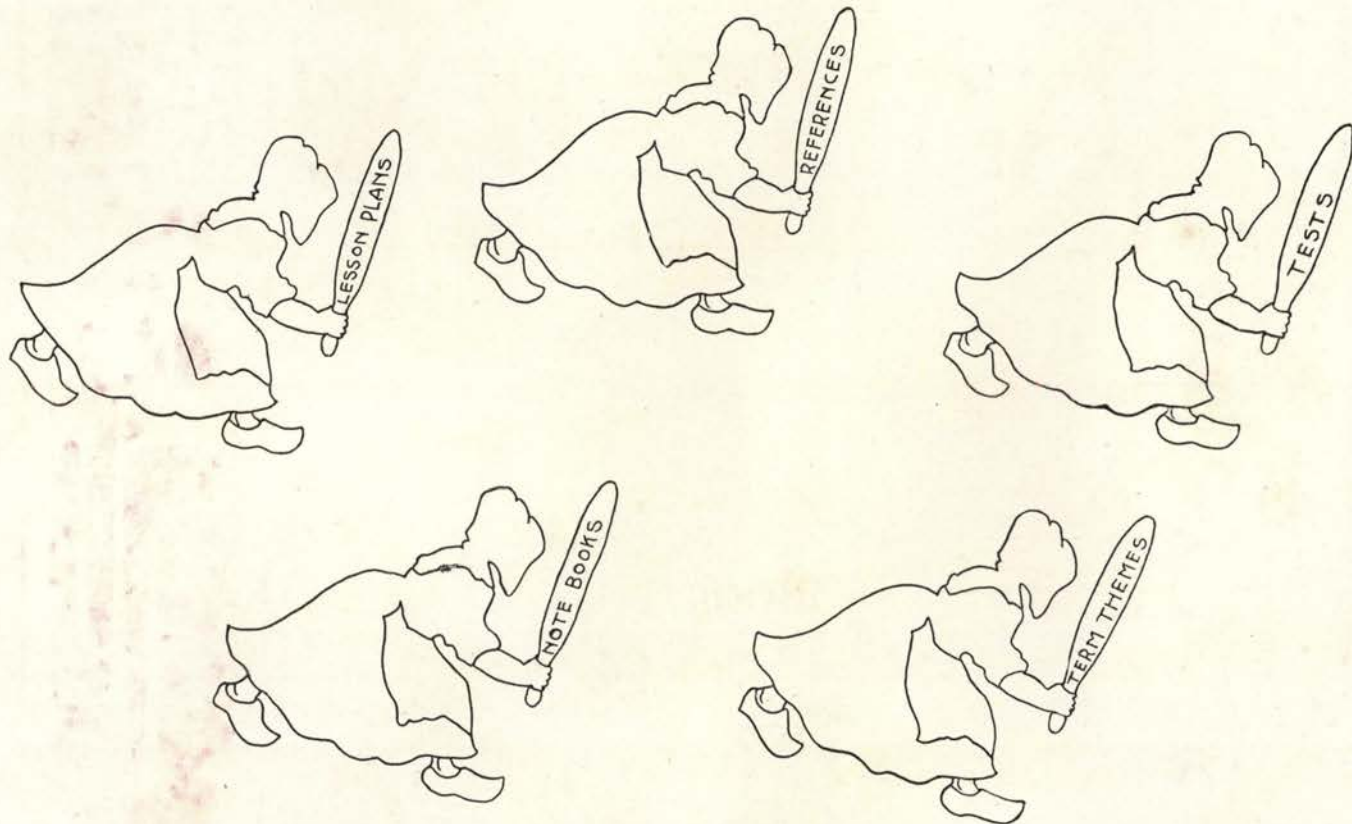

In the first the earth was nowhere,
And the skies were not above,
And all around was chaos
Until from this sprang Love.

Then sprang out Light and Darkness,
And had a child called Day.
Then Earth and Skies so beautiful
From chaos sprang away.

And Skies fell down upon the Earth
And made for it a dome;
And man came down upon the Earth
And there he made his home.

2. MEMBERSHIP: Larger in proportion to the size of the student body than at any previous year.
3. SOCIAL SERVICE WORK:
 - (a) Members of the Y. W. C. A. collected clothing from the students and faculty for local charity.
 - (b) The Association called a meeting of the girl students and organized a Junior Red Cross. A class for instructing students in Red Cross knitting was conducted previously.
 - (c) Employment and "Lost and Found" Bureaus were conducted.
 - (d) Under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A. the Normal Exchange was carried on.
4. Through the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. the school contributed $2,100 of the $1,500,000 given by North American colleges to the Friendship Fund to carry on the war work of the two Associations.
5. The Y. W. C. A. enrolled over 50% of the Normal students in the Christian Democracy Courses taught by Normal teachers for the purpose of studying Christ's principles as applied to present conditions. The course was closed with a splendid address by Dr. F. L. Jewett of Austin.
6. SPECIAL MEETINGS:
 - (a) Candle Recognition Service for the reception of new members.
 - (b) Chinese Play—"Slave Girl and School Girl."
 - (c) Addresses by faculty members, local pastors and visitors.
7. REST ROOM: Here the girls find reading material, comfortable chairs, first aid medicines, and an ever-willing adviser in the Secretary, Miss Mabel Gaines.
8. SUMMER WORK: Special plans are made to meet the needs of the summer students. At the regular meetings on Thursday afternoons emphasis will be placed on lectures that will be helpful to students in the schools in which they teach. A social will be held after each meeting during the summer term.

FOOT BALL REVIEW

S. W. T. N.—44

ST. EDWARD—0

On October 15, Normal opened her football season by trouncing the aggregation from St. Edwards in grand style. This was sufficient to reveal the best material. Soyars, Shands and Williams went through the Catholic line repeatedly; this, coupled with the passing of Shands, netted us a total of forty-four points, while the Catholics failed to register. In our line Captain McGee at his old tackle position and Sherrill at center were at all times too much for the Catholics.

S. W. T. N.—0

S. M. B. A.—7

But to offset the splendid opening of the season of October 15, we were humbled by the Baptist Academy on October 19. The Pedagogs played hard on the offense as well as on the defense. We held the Baptists to a lone first down and this came about when a hostile end carried a pass within two yards of our goal! Our line withstood two assaults but the third attempt netted fruit for the Baptists in the form of a touchdown. This was the bitterest pill that we have had to take in many years, but we swallowed it with all good grace.

S. W. T. N.—0

SHORTHORNS—27

On October 29, we imported the Shorthorns from Austin. This was as good an exhibition of hard football as has been seen here in many seasons. The Pedagogs put up a brilliant battle for the greater part of the game. The outstanding stars for the game were McGee, Sherrill, Woodson, Barnette and Porter.

Shands also came into the limelight with splendid kicking. The Shorthorns piled up a total of four touchdowns, whereas we failed to register, although we circled their ends for repeated gains. There were three principal reasons why the Shorthorns defeated us. These three reasons were Watson, Ferguson and Jackson.

S. W. T. N.—0

Our first trip took place on November 3, and we were again taken down a notch when we invaded Meridian College's territory. Despite a hard trip, the Pedagogs played a gritty game, and it was only in the latter part of the game that Meridian twice crossed our line. The team was handicapped by the temporary absence of the brightest star in the line—Sherrill at center. Glenn ably filled the vacancy. Quarter Williams and young Sherrill, who was our best bet at end, were temporarily lost to the team, due to injuries.

S. W. T. N.—3

S. M. B. A.—0

"There's a great day coming" for everybody, and ours came November 12, when we invaded the Baptists' field and took sweet revenge for the defeat they had given us previously. The Baptists were outfought and outgeneraled throughout the game. Captain McGee and his teammates were as invincible as they had been on October 19, and since Fate refused to interfere as she had done in the previous game, we were returned as the worthy conquerors of the proud Baptists. Porter, our brilliant tackle, suffered injuries but was ably replaced by Stevens. Williams rans the team in great shape, and several times, when within a certain score, we lost, due to fumbles. It was well in the last quarter that Captain McGee placed a perfect field goal between the posts, and the team pulled off a rejoicing such as was never seen before. The stars among the stars were Gary, Sherrill, Soyars and Shands. The Baptists failed to circle our ends. Reason—Gary and Sherrill. They failed to pierce our line. Reason—McGee, Porter, Sherrill, Woodson, Glenn, Barnette, Soyars and Zimmerman.

S. H. N. I.—0

On November 19 we revenged a defeat suffered last year at the hands of our sister Normal at Huntsville. Our line was too good for Huntsville and they were compelled to resort to kicking. Shands' toe was again in the limelight. Soyars and Shands penetrated the visitors' line at will, while Williams circled their ends repeatedly. This combination enabled us to cross Huntsville's goal four times.

P. M. C.—26

But a day long to be remembered by the Pedagogos is November 24, when we invaded Peacock Military Academy's grounds. The cadets outweighed us and with the rush of a whirlwind piled up three touchdowns. Our line fought stubbornly, and our backfield tried in vain to pierce the cadet line. The two Sher-rils, Soyars, Shands and Williams were unable to stop the entire cadet squad. Williams and Gary were lost permanently to the team, due to injuries. We came back in high spirits, however, and began to look forward to the Thanksgiving game.

S. W. T. N.—13

CORONAL—0

Our old rival, Coronal, met us on our field on November 29 and held us to a surprisingly low score. Shands was shifted to quarter, due to the loss of Williams, and Ford replaced him at full. Our line was too good for the Methodists and their efforts were all in vain. The Methodists fought hard, and, consequently, Soyars, Shands and Ford only twice crossed their goal.

SAN MARCOS, TEXAS, May 1, 1918.

My Dear Laddie in Khaki:

Do you remember a moonlight night, about ten months ago, when you came to see me the last time before going across the pond? How we sat on the bench beneath the honeysuckle vines, and, forgetting ourselves for a moment, talked of dear old S. W. T. N.? It was then I promised to keep a calendar of our Alma Mater for you during this, my senior, year. To prove that I can keep a promise I shall begin with September 25, Registration Day.

The horrors of it! Long waits for registration, arrangement of schedules. Attempts of Freshmen to steal away the attention of my benefactor, who was striving in vain to get me to sign up for Mathematics under Mr. Brown; Education under Mr. Evans, and English under Mr. Harrison. At the moment when I felt most tired and thirsty, a Y. W. C. A. girl passed by with a tray of fruit punch, served to the Faculty only.

SEPTEMBER 27. As I stepped from the main building and looked out across the Fish Hatchery, I had a longing to sit beneath one of those large cypress trees and ponder, but alas! On SEPTEMBER 26 the Dean of Women gave us a lecture on "The Insignia of a Lady," and I guess a "Lieutenantess" wouldn't sit under a tree to ponder—if that tree were in the Fish Hatchery.

OCTOBER 5. We went through with what is commonly called "The Faculty Reception." It could more appropriately be called "Running the Gauntlet."

When the band played "Keep the Home Fires Burning" I thought of "Just You," "Laddie in Khaki," "Over There."

OCTOBER 15. The Normal opened her football season. In our line Captain McGee at his tackle position, and Sherrill at center, were at all times too much for the Catholics. Soyars, Shands and Williams went through St. Edwards' line repeatedly, and brought us a score of 44-0.

OCTOBER 19. S. W. T. N. vs. S. M. B. A. We had to take with good grace a bitter pill. The Pedagogos withstood two assaults, but the third attempt netted a touchdown for the Preachers.

OCTOBER 20. The James Goddard Company, first Lyceum Number, was here and was greatly enjoyed. Mr. Birdwell and Miss Sayers had taken alternate mornings for the past week to make the announcement in chapel.

OCTOBER 29. We imported the Shorthorns from Austin. There was an exhibition of hard football. They pulled down 27 to our 0.

OCTOBER 31. All Ghosts' Night. Members of all literary societies and their soldier "friends" were present in a grand assembly of bed attire.

NOVEMBER 3. We took our first trip to Meridian College, and were taken down a notch to the tune of 0 to 13.

NOVEMBER 12. If you don't believe in "our supremacy," ask S. M. B. A. Oh, you should have seen them on that day!

NOVEMBER 17. Castaluccis Neapolitans, an Italian orchestra was here. Mr. Birdwell or Miss Sayers will pronounce any Italian orchestra's name for anybody. Not I!

PEDAGOG

NOVEMBER 19. We avenged a defeat suffered last year at the hands of our sister Normal, Huntsville. The score was 25-0.

NOVEMBER 29. Thanksgiving Game. The Methodists fought hard, but when the last quarter ended we were thankful for a score of S. W. T. N. 13, Coronal O.

DECEMBER 19. Home! Christmas! Santa Claus!

JANUARY 1. We came back to the "Southwest Texas State Normal School" with a strong determination to make the remaining months go by as fast as possible.

JANUARY 10. Snow! Snow! Everywhere! The first that many of us had ever seen. Coasting down Normal Hill was keen sport.

JANUARY 12. Arthur Walyn Evans "orated" and proved that he is a Webster of note.

FEBRUARY 12. Lincoln's Birthday. Mr. Erickson, in chapel, read an excellent selection, portraying the character and some of the deeds of Lincoln.

FEBRUARY 16. Chief Caupolican must have painted a rose-colored picture of South America. Two of our girls will soon be on their way to the land he described.

FEBRUARY 22. Dedication of our Service Flag. It contains one hundred and thirty stars. Mr. Arnold, very clearly, gave us its meaning and significance. Beautiful tributes of affection and love were paid to our boys at the front.

FEBRUARY 22. Martha and George entertained with a real Colonial party. The cherry trees and hatchets made the occasion seem real.

FEBRUARY 26. In the first baseball game of the season on Normal field "Heavy" pitched high-class ball, allowing no hits, walking none, and gaining eleven strikeouts. The score of 2-1 in Normal's favor showed that the teams were well matched.

MARCH 23. Normal walked away from the Academy with the big end of the horn.

MARCH 31. "Backward, turn backward, old clocks in your flight; we'll get out of school one hour sooner tonight." It was on this date that the S. W. T. N. students proved themselves one hundred per cent loyal to the school and to the nation.

APRIL 6. Mendelssohn's spring concert. The program was composed of professional dancing, singing and reading by amateurs who did creditably.

APRIL 13. When Denton came to San Marcos to be outtalked! Barber, Jr., and Stroman were handled high after the event.

APRIL 26. A distinguished visitor was with us. Dr. Usher, who was in Turkey when the war started, gave a lecture on the Armenian conditions. The S. W. T. N. students again proved loyal when they subscribed four hundred dollars to be used in purchasing Liberty Bonds to be given to the Armenian sufferers.

APRIL 27. The trophy of the baseball contest was brought "Home." Mr. Paul C. Moore, a local jeweler, had promised the cup to the team which should be successful in winning it for two years out of three. We won last year and this year, so we keep the cup. I should like very much, Sammy, to tell you about the reception that will be given the Seniors by Mr. Evans, but perhaps I had better wait until I am sure that there will be one.

At some future date I shall write you all about commencement. Until that time, fare thee well.

Your friend,
S. W. T. N.

Harris: "I thought you took Trigonometry last term?"

Miller: "I did, but the Faculty encored me."

* * * * *

Erwin S.: "May I meet you Tuesday?"

Bernice E.: "Sorry, but Tuesday is meatless day."

* * * * *

Mr. Thomas: "Miss Jones, will you please give me your mental reaction on this particular phenomenon which my heart so yearns to know?"

Miss Jones: "W-e-ll."

Mr. Thomas: "W-e-ll."

Miss Jones: "Well, I'm afraid we are both going to fall in if it gets any bigger."

* * * * *

Old Girl: "Are you going to take Senior, Junior, or Sophomore work?"

New Girl: "I don't think I'll take any of them, as I'm going to take Literary work."

* * * * *

"So you met my son in the Normal?"

"Yes, sir, we slept in the same astronomy class."

* * * * *

Miss Falls: "Well, Mr. Zimmerman, what is our lesson for today?"

Mr. Z. (nervous and blushing): "Next chapter."

* * * * *

H. E. Student: "Mrs. Burleson, I want a copy of 'Food and Didactics.'"

* * * * *

First Senior: "If the Gates were aside, do you suppose Lieutenant Smith will choose the Berry?"

Second Senior: "That depends on his Grace."

Artie Mae: "Dancing is such a wholesome exercise."

Elizabeth: "Yes it is a hold-some exercise."

Mr. Thomas: "Woodson, can you get out of your system a real definition of love?"

Irvin W.: "A little sighing, a little crying, a little dying, and a great deal of lying, constitutes love."

Mr. Thomas: "Ah, ha! I see you have been in love."

* * * * *

Mrs. Burleson to Heine, who is talking in the Library: "Come here, young man."

Heine, as he walks up: "Yes'm."

Mrs. Burleson: "Didn't I warn you just the other day?"

Heine: "No'm—I—think not."

Mrs. B.: "Well, what's your name?"

Heine: "Zimmerman."

Mrs. B.: "Why, that's strange, I must be mistaken. That fellow Peabody looks just like you, and walks like you. Do you know him?"

Heine: "No'm, I never heard of him."

Adele Fresenius (gushingly): "I just dearly love every single member of the Faculty."

THE BOY GRADUATES

The sweet girl graduates are sweet, as sweet as they can be,
 But this year the boy graduates somehow appeal to me;
 For this year the boy graduates, when their school work is by,
 Will camp beneath Old Glory's folds, outlined against the sky.
 This year our boys will leave their schools in city and in town,
 And will go marching far away, all clothed in khaki
 brown.
 They who but yesterday were boys, today are clear-
 eyed men,
 And they will march away to war—God bring them home again!

God bring them home to us again when warring days are by!
 Our hearts are where men fight for peace and where our wounded lie;
 Our hearts are with the Stars and Stripes where'er
 they fly today;
 Our hearts are with the graduates who smile and march away!

There is a look we never saw in their young eyes till now—
 A shining something in each face and on each boyish brow,
 As they could see what we cannot; and now the bugle plays,
 And now they march from boyhood ways and from glad yesterdays.

The sweet girl graduates are sweet, and they are by our side,
 But our boy graduates are gone; and, Oh, the world is wide!
 And, Oh, the world is lonesome since they cheered and
 marched away,
 The little lads we knew so well and loved so yesterday.
 And we who knew them all so well on yesterday, we know
 That, if it be on sea or land, that they shall meet
 the foe,
 They'll be what we know them to be, steel-true, our fighting men!
 God be with our boy graduates and bring them home again.

The War

War Savings Stamps

Will Help Win

The War

Thrift and Thrift alone will enable America to keep the enemy from our shores. 1694 Texas boys went into training last month to fight for us.

Do not think for a moment that war is a thing of the future. Right now, perhaps as you are reading this, American boys are laying down their lives on the battle fields of Europe. American girls are giving, loyal, unselfish service in the Red Cross. Our Texas boys have been sent to fight the enemy there to keep the enemy from fighting here. If you can't join the great army of American soldiers over there, you can at least join the great army of United States Savers over here.

Throughout the land, men, women and children are joining the great army of Thrift—they are doing away with the buying of needless things—they are helping their country and helping themselves by practicing the helpful habit of Thrift.

War Savings Stamps are the best investment on earth.

Decide today that you will save—save for your future in education or in business and that you will invest the result of those savings in War Savings Stamps.

This space patriotically donated to the National War Savings Committee.
