VOLUME XVI

Published by the Students of
The Southwest Texas State Normal College
San Marcos, Texas

Dedication

TO the men, who have been students of the Southwest Texas State Normal College and who, when the call for champions of right, justice, and liberty came, so valiently gave their lives both in the camp and on the battlefield that peace might be the inheritance of all the world, we, the students of 1918-19, dedicate the sixteenth volume of the Pedagog.

THE DEATHLESS DEAD

The deathless dead, they shall not die,
They'll still live on in memory and dreams,
Tho' far away their mould'ring bodies lie
Where once rang out the golden bells of Reims,
On Argonne wood or Flanders' harried plain,
By Verdun's scarred and crumbling piles,
While 'round them once more springs the 'rip'ing grain,
And o'er their tombs the blushing poppy smiles;

For freemen in the coming years,
As long as men are free,
As long as Valor's death endears,
As long as honor yet may be,
With words of love and looks of pride,
With glowing cheek and kind'ling eye,
Will tell of how they died;
The deathless dead, they shall not die.

—M. L. Arnold.

A TRIBUTE TO AMERICA'S SONS OF DEMOCRACY

Thou son of Freedom! Immortal son!
Who left your home for battle's fray,
Who can praise enough the deeds you've done?
Or a worthy tribute to you pay?

To heroes past we honor give,
We reverence them in freedom's name:
Tho' in our hearts their deeds shall live,
To you must be the greatest fame.

Columbia's son! Whom God let live,
And thou who art the immortal one
Who freely precious life did give,
How great the victory you've won—

A new world blessed with freedom true
Because of fearless men and brave!
How dear was liberty to you,
How dear the hope the world to save!

The hope of truth and purity
For which democracy must fight,
Whose motto surely ne'er shall be
Such feeble theme as "might is right"

Thou son whom God has chosen to die
That all from tyrants' hand be free
Altho' in flowery France you lie
So far across the stormy sea.

'Tis you we never shall forget.
When praise we give to loyal ones,
To you we pay the greatest debt
We owe to freedom's noble sons.

—Minnie Ferguson.

WHY?

Why must we come to the Normal?
Why must we abide by rules?
Why must we keep out of the halls?
Why can't we talk over the telephone?
Why must the boys leave at 10:30?
Why must we have a chaperone?
Why must we be in our rooms at 7:30?
Why must we take Ed. 104 and 212?
Why must we wear hats when going to town?
Why must we call the boys "Mr.?"
Why must we be quiet in the Library?
Why must we go to chapel?
Why can't we go to dances?
Why can't we go car riding?
Why must the boys make their dates before 6:00 P. M.?
Why can't we walk up the hill with boys on school days?
Why must we make thirty grade points to pass?
Why do some teachers give F's?
Why are A's so scarce in the Normal?
Why does Mr. Thomas' heart throb to know this particular phenomena of human affairs?
Why does Mr. Harrison get shocked at a grammatical error?
Why does Mr. Evans wish to drop idlers off of the campus?
Why does Miss White call us high school pupils?
Why does Mr. Burkholder wait until last term's note books go home?
Why must we write themes in History?
Who knows?
Nobody.

RHYMS OF THE RESTLESS ONES IN LEFT WING

In left Wing, we were a wild, unruly band;
 The stagnation of the books we couldn't stand;
 For our riot blood was surging,
 And we didn't need much urging
 To excitements and excesses that are banned.

So we took to walks and talks and Campustry;
 And our pent-up spirits struggled to be free;
 Till our friends rose up in warth,
 And they pointed out the path
 That must be tread alone—in misery.

Oh, they shook us up and told us to "be good",
 And we were forced to promise that we would,
 But to take the chance they gave
 Means a certain, silent grave,
 For we cannot say the things we feel we should.

And some of us are still in old Left Wing,
 But we never say a word nor even sing;
 For by track or trial they'll find us
 And in austere tones remind us
 Of our promise to be good in everything.

Yet, we go into the town as brave as tho
 Our faces they were never streaked with woe;
 For we're hard as eats to kill,
 And our hearts are restless still,
 And we've dodged the Dean a dozen times or so.

And you'll find us down at Jennings after school,
 And you'll find us sometimes swimming in the pool,
 For those with lore of earth
 Know our pride and know our worth;
 There's a restlessness that discipline can't rule.

—Elizabeth Sutherland.

THE JUNIORS

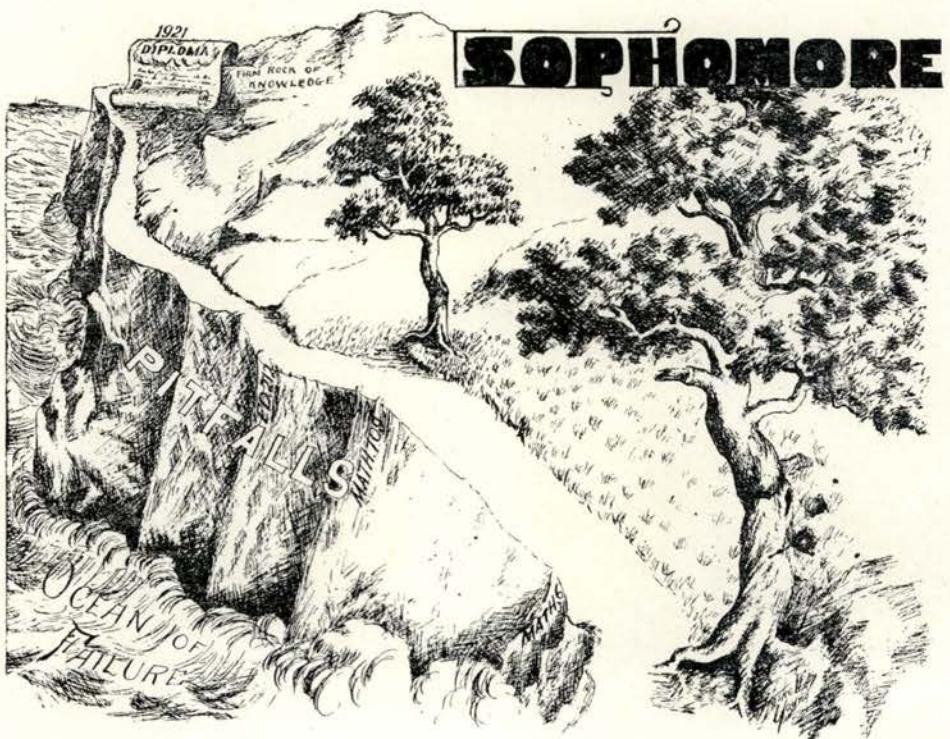

We're the class! We're the class of the Normal!
And we're never known to break a rule.
And you'll know before you're through
That there's aught we could not do;
If we wanted to, we could run the school.

As it is, we do all the doing.
We make everybody sit up and stare.
You hear'em whisper as we pass,
"There goes the Junior Class.
A class? You're might right, they're there."

You ask me, "What makes 'em all so Happy?"
You ask me, "What makes 'em all so glad?"
It's the thought of our great power
Growing greater hour by hour,
And we've scarce another thought to make us sad.

Oh! We're big and we're brave, and we're hearty,
And we're never known to break a rule.
No! more lies I will not tell,
For I know you know full well
We're the peppiest class that ever was in school.

WHEN I GET TO BE A JUNIOR

The day of wonder's coming,
The day of knowledge's coming,
When I get to be a Junior.
Won't I swell with pompous pride
Pushing Fish and Sophs aside,
When I get to be a Junior.

No more study hall for me,
No more Burk to go and see,
When I get to be a Junior.
And you English hundred two,
You bet I'll handle you,
When I get to be a Junior.

A Sophomore can't have his way,
At least that's what you hear "EM" say,
But you just wait till I'm a Junior;
No more scolds to take in school,
No more pesky social rule,
When I get to be a Junior.

No more strappings will I take,
No more hurrahs will you make,
When I get to be a Junior.
Fish and Soph's will look with awe
While I give my big Hee-Haw,
When I get to be a Junior.

—W. B. A.

The product of another Sophomore Class of S. W. T. N. stands at the Portal of Knowledge and knocks for admission to the Junior class. The product from another source could be no finer. Not only in number but also in size, nerve, tact, good looks, popularity, and scholarship do we excel the product of any class ever trained in our Dear Alma Mater. It is with heavy hearts and mournful countenances that we leave our beloved Sophomore and enter the Junior, the Promised Land of Knowledge.

Ordinarily Freshmen are slow to accept advice, and we do not wish to hurt the pride of the Juniors and Seniors as they stand on the threshold of hope and prosperity, we will not offer any advice. However, being over burdened with holdings and interests in our fellow students we hereby, as Sophomores, make public this, our last will and testament in order that aforesaid holdings and interests may be rightly distributed.

First. To all College Juniors and Seniors we leave our congratulations that they are leaving behind them all the pleasures and plans incidental to the lives of Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors, and our good wishes of courage and strength to carry them on in their pursuit of what awaits them.

Second. To the Seniors we leave our wishes of happy days to be spent in imparting their well-earned knowledge, and when the lure of teaching has lost its hold on them, we hope that they find a mate who will make their yoke easy and their burden light.

Third. To the Next Sophomore Class we leave our desire that they make a record equal to the one we are leaving.

Fourth. To the Freshmen we leave our notebooks on Education and our English Themes with a wish that the guiding spirits who helped us over the hills and ridges will hover over them and keep them from flunking.

Fifth. To all Freshmen and new incoming Sophomores we leave our Sympathy, which they will need as they spend weary hours in the Study Hall.

Sixth. To the next Chemistry Class we bequeath our note books on "lab" work. Here they will find a rich heritage of odors and long ages of labor, under which we hope they will suffer no loss.

Seventh. To all students, including ourselves, we leave our hope that there will be no more Social Rules and that we may enjoy Freedom as intelligent men and women of our class and age should.

Eighth. Again, to all students we leave our protecting thoughts which we hope will save them from being silently taken to the edge of the campus and dropped off.

Ninth. To all members of the Faculty we leave our memories or themes, quizzes, and notebooks; may the vision of our suffering haunt them until they become more merciful in dealing with the next year's students.

Tenth. To our President we leave some of our "Proper Attitudes" with a request that he bestow equitably among those who follow us.

Eleventh. To all, we leave our desire to meet in the future and be able to talk over the happy past.

Finally. We nominate and appoint and hereby commission the Janitor and Registrar as executors of this our last will and testament, requiring that they first give sufficient bond and security. In witness whereof we have hereunto set our hand and seal this the second day of June, in the year of our Lord 1919.

As some of the Freshman class deprived us of the pleasure of filling this space with their pictures, we dedicate this space to the unfortunate members of the class whose memories need jogging concerning their duty to their class. We sincerely hope that this space will constantly remind them and inspire them to support their class better hereafter.

A FRESHMAN'S DREAM

Speaking of dreams, the most remarkable dream I have ever had was as follows:

I dreamed that I had reached the height of every Freshman's Ambition--I was a Senior. I looked back over all of my school days four long years, and thought of the obstacles I had overcome and the trials which I had conquered.

The most remarkable feature of my dream was that the classes were reversed. We were Seniors, the Sophomores were Juniors, the Juniors were Sophomores--but the sweetest of all--those proud Seniors were Freshmen.

Gleefully we handed back all of the insults and the slurs that they had given us. For every hour of sorrow they had given us, we evaded them a day of pain. Juniors, too, came in for a share of what the Seniors received, but we permitted the Sophomores to live in peace.

Privilege was represented to me in the form of a person. He showed the effects of a hard life. He had been abused by all the Seniors in the past and was destined ever to be, but Privilege was never abused before and shall never be again in the history of the Southwest Texas State Normal College as he was during that one short night in my dreams--when I was a Senior.

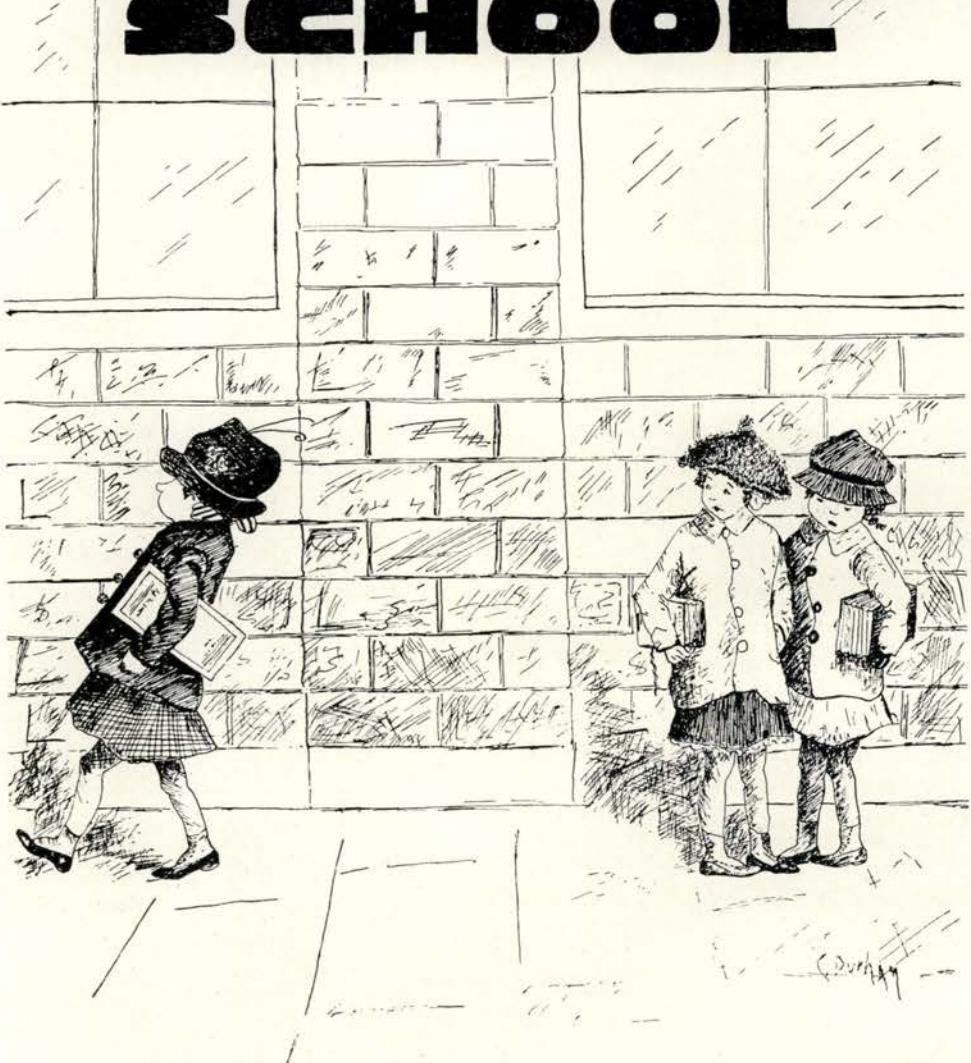

Mathematics, English, History, Foreign Language, and all other horrors of the Freshman were personified. In order they marched by--all were wearing the dejected attitude of the defeated--we had conquered them. Never again would they rise up and proclaim themselves masters, for we were rulers over all. Faculty and students alike bowed down to us in subjection--we were "Seniors."

And just as a diploma was being handed to me and we were being praised and pointed out as the most remarkable class that had ever graduated from the Southwest Texas State Normal College, a bell rang out on the morning air and I awoke--A Freshman.

—Almanor Chapman.

The Fifth Grade of the Training School wrote this parody on "To Day" and called it "This Year"

Lo, here hath been dawning	As a war measure
Another thrift year:	This campaign was begun;
Think, wilt thou let it	As a peace measure
Slip stampless away?	We hope 'twill remain.

Lo, here hath been dawning
Another thrift year:
Think, wilt thou let it
Slip stampless away?

JUST A RHYME

"Fiddle-de-de, fiddle-de-de,
 Straight in your desks, you kids must be!"
 Is Handrick's command, as he comes in to see
 All the room in a tumble with laughter and glee.
 With laughter and glee,
 Te-he-te-he
 With laughter and glee,
 Te-he.

"Riddle-de-rout, riddle-de-rout,
 You're all out of place without any doubt!"
 Is Garrett's remark as he looks all about
 To see the kids running and some there to shout,
 And some there to shout
 De-rout-re-rout,
 And some there to shout
 De-rout.

"Wolly-de-wook, wolly-de-wook,
 What is the matter and where must I look?"
 Is Allison's speech as she comes from her nook.
 The whole room is startled and about they do look
 And about they do look,
 De-wook-de-wook,
 And about they do look,
 De-wook.

The Country Life Club was organized during the second term by the Social Service Committee of the Young Women's Christian Association. The Club is open to both men and women students. It exists for the purpose of preparing rural teachers to become efficient leaders of social life in their respective communities. The Club meets twice each month. The members study various country life problems such as; the lack of co-operation in the country, the tendency of country boys and girls to flock to the city, and the dearth of organized play. As this third problem is largely responsible for the present undesirable situation, it receives especial emphasis. After the study hour, the members of the club adjourn to the gymnasium where they actually play the games they expect to use in their country work. This offords not only valuable training, but a delightful means of recreation.

Y. W. C. A. 1918-19

The work of the Y. W. C. A. has been one of the main features of student life in the Normal during the term of 1918-19. The cabinet and the various committees have been exceedingly faithful in their work and have contributed greatly to the success of the various activities.

The most beautiful and impressive meeting of the fall term was the Candle Recognition Service. It was held in the Auditorium where, in the deepening twilight, the cabinet girls received the new members into the Association. Foremost among the social events was the marshmallow roast given to the entire school in honor of the S. A. T. C. Other features of the fall term were: World Fellowship Week; a pageant, When East Meets West; and talks by Messrs. Birdwell, Neal and Burkholder.

During the winter term, Mr. Birdwell gave a most helpful and inspiring course of lectures on Community Leadership. Two other events of this term deserve especial mention: The beautiful play, It Happened in Japan, given by Miss Hornsby's reading class; and the thought provoking address on Woman and Democracy by Dr. Eby of the University of Texas.

The Social Service Committee did a most important piece of work in organizing the new Country Life Club. The Publicity Committee was successful in bringing before the minds of many students some of the great problems of our day. They stationed in most conspicuous places, posters on child labor, treatment of our immigrants, and our relations with other nations.

Among the most appreciated addresses of the spring term were: The Woman's Movement, by President Evans; and The Value of Music, by the Rev. L. D. Grafton.

The girls of the Association took a leading part in enrolling the students of the Normal in the Christian Democracy classes. These classes were first organized in the spring of 1918 and proved so successful that similar courses were offered this year. Over sixty-five percent of the student body enrolled on these classes, which were conducted by the various members of the faculty. They studied the solution of our great reconstruction problems in the light of Christian principles.

FOOT BALL TEAM

FOOT BALL

The 1918 season of football was a success. Although we lost a few games the number we won more than made up for it. All players displayed great skill in foot ball tactics during the year but a few of these were unusual players and must be given credit for the excellent playing that they did. Captain Williams, better known by the name of Squatty, kept up the team by his dashing runs with the ball, which frequently resulted in a touch-down. C. L. Wren of Texas City must be classed as an exceptional star; when once loose, with the ball there was no possibility of the opposing team preventing his crossing the goal. Quarterback Pete Shands must be given credit for his good head work in that position. Nothing need be said of Hop's and Soyor's extraordinary playing, for all students remember the many rabs they received from the grand stand. In all we are well satisfied, our total scoring being 94 to our opponents' 46.

The first game of the season was with Southwestern University. Normal made a plucky fight but was outclassed with weight and seasoned players. The end runs of the University ran up a score of 33, while the Normal was unable to cross the goal line.

Next West Texas came here for a game. The teams were almost equally matched. However the goal line was crossed only once by the Normal, while West Texas crossed it twice.

Peacock Military College came next for a game. Peacock never got past our forty yard line, while most of the time we were in their territory, which finally resulted in our pushing them back being our goal line for a touch-back.

S. M. B. A., our old rival, was our next opponent, S. M. B. A. was helpless before our end runs, interferences and line attacks. Three touchdowns were made, making Normal win by a score of 20 to 0.

Next came the dummies. A touchdown was made in the first five minutes of the game. After this it was not a question of who could win but how many scores the Normal could pile up. Score: 47 to 0.

The best game of the season was the Academy game on the Academy field. The first half was scoreless, but in the third quarter Academy crossed the line. It seemed as if Normal would go down in defeat but in the last five minutes C. L. Wren went in and turned the tide. In the last three minutes we crossed the goal line making the score 6 to 6.

Our last game was with the Fourteenth Cavalry. We won by a score of 13 to 0.

STEALING SECOND

SAN MARCOS, TEXAS

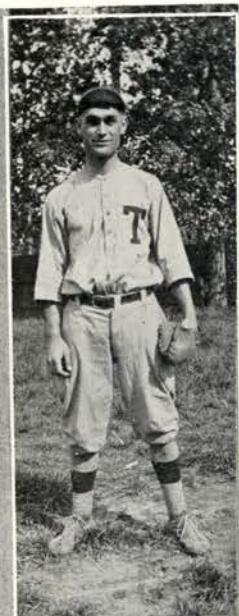

Mer Perkins—3rd Base

Marsh (Coach)

CAVNESS—was an extraordinary first baseman. He was a consistent player that possessed all the qualities of a good leader for his men, and we hope to see him back with us next year.

Capt Cavniss—1st Base

COACH—For the team's many victories we have to thank Coach Marsh, who has worked hard and patiently with the team that he might put out a winner.

Hopson—Mascot

Wren - Catcher

Summers - 2nd Base

Soyars - C. Field

WREN—was a good man behind the bat, but not with the bat—but you can't tell the fans that.

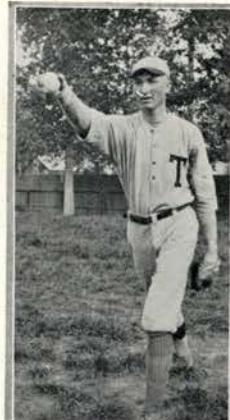

JENNINGS—Morris, has the dope on 'em all; the smoke that he uses makes the batter cry, "How can you hit 'em when you can't see 'em?"

SUMMERS—was a genuine baseball player, holding second with such ease that no one dared rival him for that place.

ZIMMERMAN—Hiney, a good man at most any position on the field. He is in the game with the pep at all times, and meets the pill with a rap when at bat.

SOYARS—holds the position as lead off man in the batting order, and what it takes to run those bases "He's Got It."

HOLLAND—was little, but was always on the spot to make the ball find its final resting place, when the opposing team had hit for a two or three bagger.

Jennings - Pitcher

Zimmerman - Short Stop

Holland - R. Field

DeVinney Pitcher

DeVINNEY—was a good man in the box. And does any one know whether he ever made an error in that right field?

Shands Catcher

PHILLIPS—Jerry was there as long as he is long when it came to pitching ball.

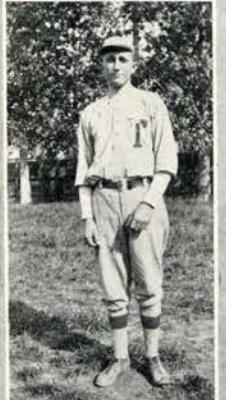

Phillips L. Field

SHANDS—a man of all position, he is our second to none in left field.

Tate Pitcher

GARDNER, S. W.—An excellent man to stand behind the bat.

Gardner Catcher

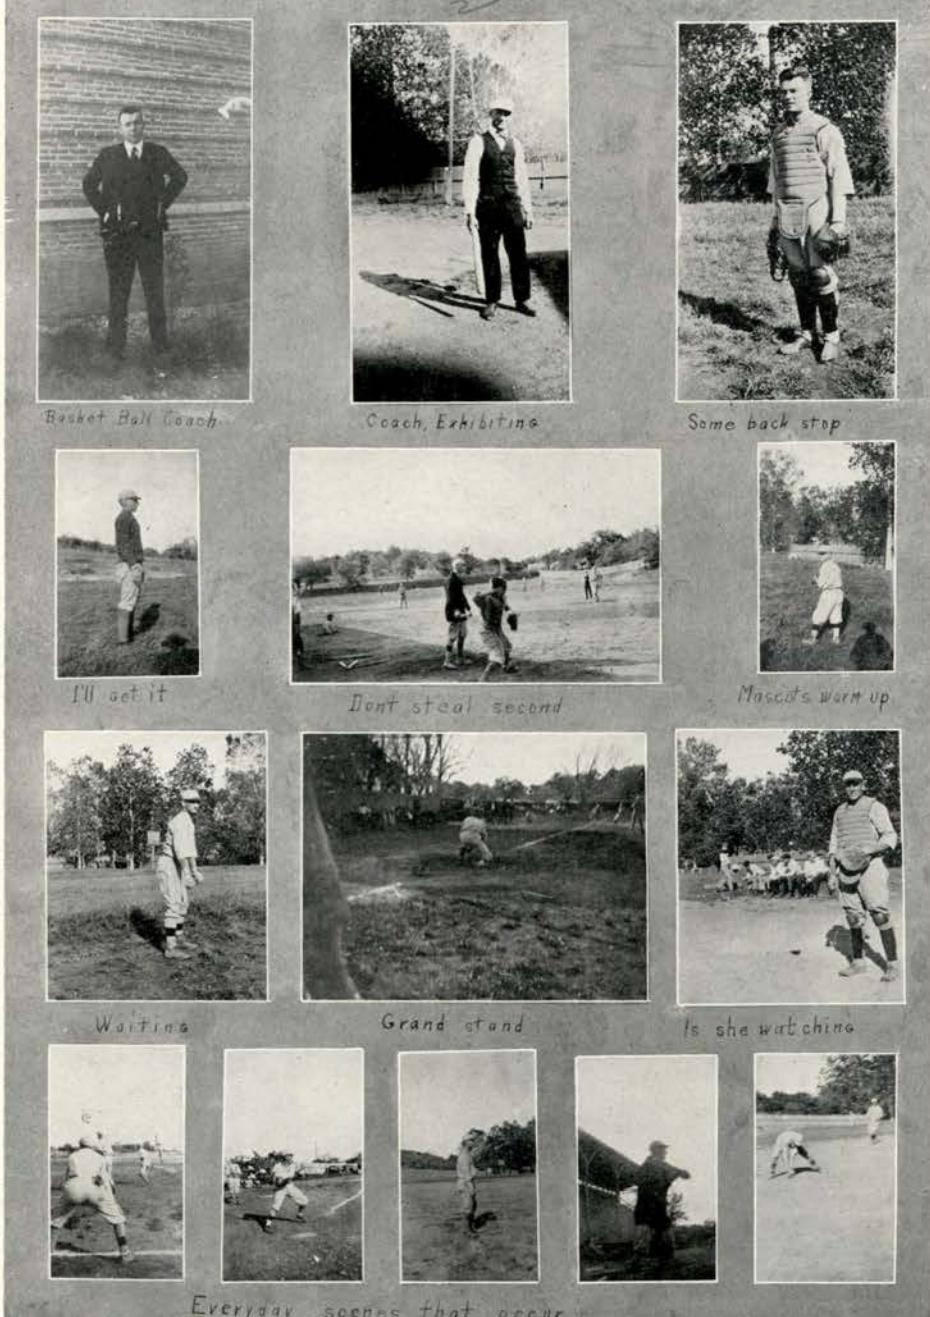

“SIGH” TATE—was one of Normals best pitcher. He certainly demonstrated his ability to pitch the ball on the trip north, when he beat Baylor by a score of 9 to 2.

Taking Perkins' playing as a whole he, must be classed as an exceptional star. If not married before next year, he will be back with us.

HUMOR

English 102 Student: Can you tell me who Bill Haywood is?

Anna Woodson: Who? No, I don't believe I can. Are you sure he goes to the Normal?

Mrs. Shaver: Miss Jones, you are looking very pale and thin. Don't you get enough sleep?

Miss Jones: I am taking Ed 212 this term.

Mr. Walker: Have any of you had experience with graphs?

Leonard Hopson: I have a phonograph.

Mr. Burke: Cheer up, boys, it might have been worse.

Hastings: What was the score?

McDonald: 88 to 6.

Mr. Pritchett: Can you decline "to eat"?

Armstrong: Yes, but I don't like to.

Mr. Walker (in chemistry): If an electron should hit me on the side of the head, likely as not it would go clear through without hitting a thing.

Literary Contributor: Drop this in the Star box, please.

A Friend: Drop it in yourself, you wrote it.

Literary Contributor: Well, no one will see you.

Mr. Harry: Don't you try to be very good just before Christmas?

Miss Mebane: I used to.

Mr. Harry: Well, Miss Mebane, I didn't know you were that old.

Minister: Young man, do you ever attend a place of worship?

Pleeky: I am on my way to her house now.

THE PEDAGOG 1919

TO THE FACULTY OF THE SOUTH WEST TEXAS NORMAL:

South West Texas Normal,
April 12, 1919

We, the undersigned, do hereby respectfully submit the following petition:

That in view of the fact that the student body has been unusually conscientious in the performance of its duties and obligations and that the school spirit heretofore displayed has been a great credit to the institution, and since the students have been very punctilious in the performance of their duties to the great assistance and the relief of the faculty.

Be it hereby respectfully petitioned that if

be considered for the CHATUAQUA for the week beginning April 27 and ending May 3, the faculty grant the same as an unworthy reward for the above mentioned excellencies and virtues.

As a more fitting recognition of our achievements, we beg that something be granted which will not soon be forgotten. On the dates aforementioned, we request that we, the undersigned, be conducted to the edge of the campus and be there noisily decapitated.

The formality of notifying our parents can be done away with, as it will not be worth while. All our belongings, such as text-books, old shoes, jerseys, kite strings, photographs, marbles, pennants, paper airplanes, and chewing-gum we dedicate to the school, hoping thereby to preserve the memory of otherwise useless lives.

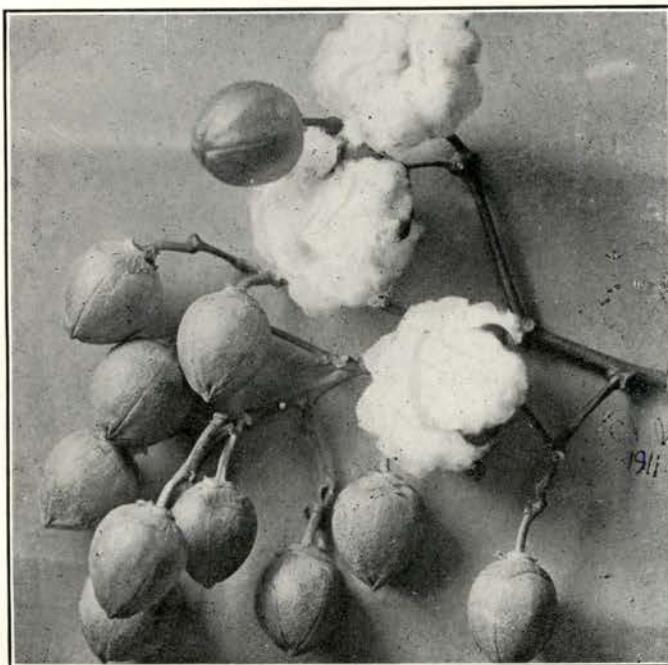

ALL OF WHICH WE HUMBLY PETITION.
